Organizations Combine To Make Concerted Effort For Improvement In Pincher To B.C. Highway

Petition Sent Edmonton to Re-Survey and Build New Pincher Creek to Maple Leaf Road; Delegates Present From Lethbridge to Coleman.

Delegates from Lethbridge, Macleod and Pincher Creek Boards of Trade; Macleod, Pincher Creek, Bellevue, Blairmore and Coleman Lions clubs, and Blairmore and Coleman town councils gathered at Turtle Mountain Playgrounds on Monday evening upon the invitation of Blairmore Lions to discuss and organize an association to promote support for the hard-surfacing of No. 3 highway from Pincher Station to the BC border.

It had been arranged that Dr. Anderson, permanent member of the Alberta Rehabilitation Board, deliver an address. Possibly the snow storm was responsible for his non-appearance as his whereabouts were not known to the Blairmore Lions as the meeting started.

Lion President John Kerr opened the meeting and told of the agitation that had been made for hard-surfacing the No. 3 highway from Pincher Station to BC boundary. The purpose of the meeting was to organize an association that would make a concerted effort, of the towns interested in the hard-surfacing of the highway, to Edmonton for immediate improvement.

Harvey Greenway, Lethbridge, stated he was convinced something ought to be done to this highway. He told of the Red Trail Association which extended through southern Alberta into southeastern BC, and whose membership consisted of Board of Trade members from The Hat to Rossland. The association had a little money left. Nelson was vitally interested in the tourist traffic from this area and had budgeted to the amount of $2,000 to be spent in advertising welcoming tourists from the area to visit the Kootenays.

Dan Boyle, Macleod, stated that the new association would bring lots of pressure to bear on Edmonton. He remarked that Boards of Trade from Pincher Creek to High River were vitally interested in this road.

L. Cuthbert, Macleod, stated that in order to boost the value of the new roadway which this association planned on securing it would be necessary to interest towns and cities in southeastern BC to bring pressure on their government to improve the highway leading to the Alberta border.

Alex. Snowden, Lethbridge, stated what interests one interests all. He suggested that the new association take in Medicine Hat to Rossland, with Waterton being included. He asked that the old Red Trail Association be revived and an effort made to have No. 3 highway tie up with other roads.

Mr. S. Lunn, Pincher Creek, opened his address by stating that we must roar and keep on roaring if we wish to be heard at Edmonton. He remarked that the tourist trade will grow to such a large extent that it is imperative that the roads be built up. He referred to the No. 3 highway between Pincher Station and the BC border as the missing link. He had no doubt whatever that there would be a heavy influx of U.S. tourists following the war. A petition had been sent to Edmonton bearing 365 names asking for hard-surfacing of this particular part of the No. 3 highway. A reply from Mr. Fallow had stated that due to the shortage of manpower and material it was impossible to complete the Pincher Creek-Maple Leaf highway. However, he was not discouraged at this reply and thanked Mr. E. O. Duke, MLA, for the able manner in which he had presented the need of the completion of hard-surfacing over this road. He concluded by asking his listeners to inform Mr. Fallow that there were a lot of people in this district who demanded better road conditions.

Enoch Williams, Blairmore, stated that it would require much hard work to receive government recognition to this area. The C. N. Pass was the fourth centre of population in the province and contributed heavily to the provincial treasury. He told of the heavy traffic frequenting this road prior to the war and the fact that it was an all-year highway. It connected the northern and western States with the industrial centres of Alberta, but tourists were willing to travel an extra 200 miles over hard-surfaced highways rather than set the best offered in the No. 3 highway. He concluded by remarking that the Pass was isolated and that meant a considerable sense of people.

Frank Abousaif, Coleman, stated that his council had tried hard to get results by personally contacting the government, sending a joint petition with the town of Blairmore and by agitation through the local press. He visualized a tremendous tourist industry. He was opposed to hard-surfacing the present stretch of road under discussion, which he described as a trail. He asked that a real highway be built, one that would compare favorably with the highways that must be built in the post-war highway system of Canada in order to cope with increased travel. He suggested that the Red Trail Association be revived and that our influence be placed behind it.

Mr. Morgan, Pincher Creek, stated that the road was located in the south part of the province near the States. We wanted foreign money, which could be secured by catering to the tourist industry. Calgary, with its 90,000 population, was the one responsible for taking the road from the south. Leaders of the Pass had fallen down during the 1930's and had allowed others to get ahead. It would be necessary to raise a row and let it be known that we had a road that led to Calgary, Banff and Jasper.

He agreed that a new road must be built with good drainage and height and suggested that we ask for a new road prior to asking for hard-surfacing. He also suggested that steps be taken to get the federal

ALBERTA MEMBERS OF CARROLL COAL COMMISSION

Angus J. Morrison

Visit Mines Throughout Pass; Several Banquets Given in Commission's Honor; Eleven Men in Party; Praise Hospitality of Western Canada.

On Wednesday morning officials of the local coal companies were hosts to the Carroll Coal Commission which visited the Pass this week to inspect mines in the Pass as far west as Fernie. The commission concluded hearings at Calgary at the week end, briefs having been presented by a number of interested organizations.

Heading the commission is Mr. Justice Carroll. The other two members are Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin and Mr. Angus J. Morrison. In the commission's party are Mr. J. J. Fawley, KC, commission's counsel; Mr. Rand Matheson, transportation adviser; Dr. L. E. Young, mining engineer from Pittsburgh and who is consultant to the commission; Robert D. Howland, secretary; Mr. Harry Kelley, assistant general manager of Dominion Steel & Coal Co., Nova Scotia; Clem Stubbs, secretary Western Canadian Bituminous Coal Operators' Association; Don Wallace, special representative of the CPR, and John Crawford, Chief Inspector of Mines in Alberta.

The commission arrived in the Pass on Tuesday morning and continued to Fernie in a special coach on the CPR. At Fernie they visited the Elk River mine, owned by the Crows' Nest Pass Coal Co. Here the commission was impressed by the modern coal washing and preparation plant. Michel-Natal was the second place visited, three commission members travelling down the mine to the coal face, they being Secretary Howland, J. J. Fawley and Mines Inspector Crawford.

Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin

A banquet was held in the King Edward, where the Crows' Nest Pass Coal Company officials were hosts to the commission.

On Tuesday afternoon the party travelled to Blairmore and Bellevue, where they inspected mines at Hillcrest-Mohawk, Bellevue collieries and West Canadian collieries. A banquet in their honor was held at the Greenhill that evening, hosts being West Canadian Collieries' officials.

On Wednesday morning they came to Coleman, where some of the party inspected local mining properties, while others toured the residential section to see for themselves what kind of homes the Pass miners resided in.

At noon a luncheon was given, the coal companies' officials being hosts. The luncheon was held in the Grand Union banquet room, and was presided over by general manager J. J. McIntyre. Speakers included Mr. McIntyre, Mayor Frank Abousaif, Mack Stigler and Enoch Williams, UMWA officials in Coleman and Blairmore respectively, Mr. Justice Carroll, Mr. Justice McLaurin, Mr. Angus Morrison and Mr. H. J. Kelley.

Members of the commission praised the hospitality of western Canada and particularly the hospitality shown them by the Pass coal companies. Justice Carroll stated that he and his colleagues appreciated the broad co-operation that had been manifested so far by all parties interested in the problem of coal mining and distribution.

Attending the banquet were officials from the West Canadian, Bellevue collieries and Hillcrest-Mohawk mines, as well as Mr. Evan Morgan, district mines inspector.

Others included Leslie McDonald, President George Derbyshire, Secretary Harold Houghton, W. H. Garner, James Lowe and Doug Moores, recently discharged from the RCAF in which branch he had served several years overseas.

A three-piece orchestra furnished many musical selections and were aided in furnishing the entertainment by songsters R. Lloyd, A. Wilson, E. Spievak, Bill Chernecky and another Russian gentleman whose name could not be ascertained, Bill Jenkins and Bert Garrett. Harry Parkinson played his xylophone. Jack Anderson was present with his "squeeze box" and a dancing doll which caught the fancy of the crowd. Bill Jenkins operated the machinery necessary to make the doll dance to Jack's Scotch and Irish jigs. In addition all joined in community singing.

During the various addresses mention was made of the very fine war pictures which adorn the club walls. The artist was Fred Founds, formerly a local bank teller who enlisted shortly after the outbreak of war and who has served several years with his country's armed forces. The paintings are carefully guarded against damage and still retain the sparkle that was theirs when first completed.

MINERS' UNION PURCHASES NEW PIANO

A new Heintzman piano has been purchased by the Miners' Union for the Community hall. It cost approximately $600 and will no doubt bring joy to the hearts of many local pianists who take part in public concerts.

Committee Appointed To Take Care Of Tuberculosis Clinic's Visit Here May 10

Representatives From All Organizations in Town; Blairmore and Bellevue to Organize.

On Sunday in the Community hall, Mr. C. R. Dickey, provincial secretary of the Tuberculosis Association, addressed a meeting and outlined the work necessary to prepare for the visit of the mobile T.B. X-ray unit to the Pass on or about May 9. Mayor Frank Abousaif was chairman. Present were interested parties from Frank, Blairmore and Coleman. Bellevue's representatives failed to make an appearance.

Mr. Dickey stated that everyone twelve years and over should be X-rayed. He favored a door-to-door canvass in order that a clear understanding could be given citizens of what was expected from them and the benefits to be derived from an X-ray examination.

In addition to revealing early traces of tuberculosis, the unit would also reveal signs of silicosis, heart disease and cancer. Should anyone have any disease they would be advised of same. If no report was received by those being X-rayed they could take it for granted that they were in good physical condition.

He stated that the unit could handle 300 patients daily and voiced the opinion that with Coleman's population of 1,000 to 1,500 cases might be expected to be found here.

He warned against allowing citizens to come for examination at their own discretion. A time schedule had to be drafted and which must be strictly adhered to in order that the unit might work at capacity daily. Citizens will have the privilege of voicing their preference for a certain day and hour, but once given that preferred time schedule they must adhere to it. He thought it would be possible to have the unit here on Wednesday, May 9.

Following Mr. Dickey's departure for Lethbridge on the afternoon train the Coleman delegation held a meeting and appointed A. Balloch chairman of the Coleman committee. He was also appointed to aid the Blairmore and Bellevue committees. Jim Cousins was appointed secretary of the Coleman committee.

Delegates were appointed from miners' union, coal companies, Lions, Elks, teachers, school board and council.

A meeting will be held shortly to plan methods to be adopted in the door-to-door canvass, and also secure the necessary help to aid when the clinic visits here.

86 Citizens Attended Blood Clinic

Sixty-Nine Were Accepted; Local Red Cross Branch Expresses Thanks.

A successful visit was had by the traveling Red Cross Blood Clinic, which visited Coleman on Tuesday. Ninety-eight names had been recorded by the local Red Cross, which sponsored the Clinic's visit here. Of that number eighty-six made their appearance.

There were sixty-nine who donated varying amounts of blood, while seventeen were rejected. The amount of blood received totalled 21,855 cc's.

In the evening the Red Cross executive, local attendants at the clinic and the clinic's attendants, Miss Marge Burton and Mrs. Olive Millard, of Calgary, gathered in the banquet room of the Grand Union hotel for a social evening.

President W. Dutil desires to express his thanks and those of his executive to the citizens who attended the clinic and who were responsible in making the clinic's visit a success.

The clinic visited Blairmore on Wednesday and today are visiting at Pincher Creek.

JACK JONES GRADUATES WITH RANK OF FLIGHT ENGINEER

Jack Jones is home where he is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones.

On Thursday, March 27, at the RCAF school at Aylmer, Ont., he graduated as a Flight Engineer. His training has taken him from points in Alberta to the west coast and back to eastern Canada. He has several weeks furlough ahead of him and he is making the most of it as he visits old friends.

$2100 Received In Red Cross Campaign

With good response from all parties in town, and especially good at Sentinel power plant, the Red Cross campaign in Coleman is once more over the top. Total is practically $2,100, with a few scattered donors to be contacted.

Thanks are expressed to the various lodges in town who responded to our appeal, and also to the officials and staff of our coal companies who ably co-operated in our campaign.

International miners subscribed a total of $457.35, McGillivray miners $296.75, and the business section $250.00. From the school teachers we received a total of $45, and last but not least, our good friends out at Sentinel donated the grand sum of $109.50 from a staff of 24. We express our thanks to our representative at Sentinel, Miss E. Wilson.

To all those connected with our campaign in any way, we extend our heartfelt thanks in getting this work completed in the cause of the Red Cross.—J.A.P.

Canadian Citizenship

ITS CITIZENSHIP IS A SUBJECT to which the average Canadian gives little thought, although to be a citizen of Canada and of the British Commonwealth should be a matter of pride and satisfaction to us all. The population of Canada is made up of people of many different racial origins, but we are all Canadians, sharing in the privileges and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship, and it would be to the advantage of the people and of the country as a whole, if more serious thought were given to the many implications of these privileges and responsibilities. Hope for permanent world peace is centred on the elimination of racial barriers and the cultivation of international co-operation and goodwill. The first step in this direction is to have unity of thought and purpose at home, for no nation can hope to achieve on an international scale, what it has not accomplished among its own people.

Are Classed By Racial Origin

Dr. H. M. Tomy, a former president of the University of Alberta, and a leading Canadian educationist, stated in a recent address that even members of families who have made Canada their home for several generations, tend to regard themselves as English, Irish, Scotch or French Canadians. This may be due in part to the fact that for statistical purposes Canadians are still classed according to their racial origin, no matter how many generations of their family may have been born in this country. Dr. Tomy expressed the view that "a clear and well-defined sense of our own citizenship in our own Canadian nation within the British Commonwealth," would be the best basis for a fuller understanding of our relation to the Empire, and to the other nations of the world. Situated as we are, in close proximity to two great powers, the United States and Russia, and bound also by ties of tradition and sentiment to Great Britain and France, there is no doubt but that Canada must be prepared to play an important part in world affairs in the years to come.

Education For New Citizens

In an effort to foster a fuller understanding of the meaning, privileges and responsibilities of our citizenship, a Canadian Council of Education for Citizenship has been organized. Its purpose is to intensify educational work in these matters and to give out authentic and impartial information concerning phases of our national life and our institutions. Much of its work will be among those who are taking out citizenship papers in this country, and in this respect it will fill a long-felt need for making those who are about to become citizens more fully aware of what this may mean to them in the way of advantages and of obligations. Native born Canadians, too, will no doubt learn much through the work of the Council, and it is to be hoped that through this, and other such efforts, the people of Canada may be encouraged to develop a deeper appreciation of the meaning of citizenship.

Used His Wits

Voltaire Had To Think Fast To Save His Life

Feeling was running high against the French when, in 1727, Voltaire arrived in England. One day the great Frenchman was walking along a London street when a crowd of angry citizens accosted him with cries of "Kill him! Hang the Frenchman!"

Voltaire turned upon his detractors and cried out, "Englishmen! You want to kill me because I am a Frenchman! Am I not punished enough in not being an Englishman?"

The crowd broke into wild cheers and extended him safe conduct back to his inn.—Your Life Magazine.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

INDIVIDUALITY

Individuality is the salt of common life. You may have to live in a crowd, but you do not have to live like it, nor subsist on its food.—Henry Van Dyke

Human faculties are common, but that which converges these faculties into my identity, separates me from every other man. —Giles

The reality and individuality of man are good and God made, and they are here to be seen and demonstrated; it is only the evil belief that renders them obscure.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The greatest works are done by the ones. The hundreds do not often do much the companies never; it is the units the single individuals, that are the power and the might.—Spurgeon.

The universal does not attract us until housed in an individual.—Emerson.

A people, it appears may be progressive for a certain length of time, and then stop. When does it stop? When it ceases to possess individuality.—John Stuart Mill.

Skin Eruptions

Here is a clean, stainless, penetrating antiseptic oil that brings speedy relief from the itching and discomfort. Not only does it soothe the inflamed skin, but it also promotes rapid and healthy healing in open sores and burns, but also simple ulcers are also relieved. In skin affections the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped. Pimples—skin eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Barbers' itch, Salt Rheum, Itchiness, Tinea and Feet and other inflammatory skin disorders. You can obtain Moore's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any good drugstore. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—My notice to vacate is up on April 30. I still cannot find a house to rent and would like to know if there is any way I could get an extension?

A.—The only person who could grant you an extension would be your landlord. Perhaps you could arrange with him to have another month or two to look for other accommodation. However, if he decides not to grant such an extension he may apply to the Courts for possession of his property.

Q.—Is it necessary for persons moving from one town to another to change the address on the ration book?

A.—Yes. They should advise their Local Ration Board of the change of address and change the address on their ration books.

Q.—If maple syrup is ordered by mail, what do I do about forwarding the necessary coupons?

A.—Loose coupons must not be sent through the mail. Your ration book must be mailed to the Local Ration Board and four preserves coupons will be removed by the Ration Board for each gallon of syrup that you wish to purchase. A special direction will be mailed to you and you then place your order with the producer.

Q.—How many preserves coupons are being made available for the purchase of canning sugar?

A.—Twenty preserves coupons are being made available for canning sugar. Each coupon is good for half a pound of sugar.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your selling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

One Kind Of Record

But Dodge Plant In Chicago Cannot Be Proud Of It

There was a strike in the Dodge plant in Chicago the other day. A group of workers walked out in protest over a general foreman's walking through their department more often than they thought necessary. Hardly had this dispute been settled than another strike took place. Another group of workers walked out after refusing to set up work in their machines in their idle time. The Dodge plant in Chicago makes engines for B-29 Superfortresses.

The Dodge plant labor situation is that the difficulties referred to above were the 124th and 125th strikes at the plant since December, 1942. The total of 125 strikes at one plant in a little more than two years may or may not be a world's record. But one thing is certain. It's not a record to be proud of. Buffalo Courier Express.

Air Services

Canada Second Largest Operator Of Domestic Air Services

C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction for Canada, recently stated that next to the United States, Canada is the largest operator of domestic air services in the world.

In the international field, Trans-Canada Air Lines maintain the only regular non-stop passenger and mail service between this continent and the United Kingdom. Presently three regular trips per week are being operated and plans are being made to bring this up to a daily service.

Trans-Canada Air Lines uses Canadian built Lancasters in this transatlantic service which is principally for mail and from service men and women overseas, special cargo and military personnel.

MEET A CWAC—

From "Uniform to University" is the next step that Sgt. Rose Mae Mercer, Regina, hopes to take. Before Rose Mae enlisted in the C.W.A.C. she taught school, but finances not stretching to the University course and the B.A. she wanted, she joined the army. Now with her gratuities and rehabilitation credits, Rose Mae has high hopes of at last specializing in languages and getting that "B.A." after her name. In the meantime she's satisfied with a "C.W.A.C." after it. Most of Sgt. Mercer's service career has been in Saskatchewan, with the exception of courses at St. Anne de Bellevue and Camp Borden. At present she is posted at Dundurn Military Camp, employed in the C.W.A.C. orderly room.

Immediately prior to that she was at Prince Albert in connection with the Eskimo scheme held there last winter. Among Rose Mae's many interesting hobbies are candid camera-when she can get the films, reading the classics, listening to Latin-American records, particularly Cougars, tennis and bridge. She taught school for three years, part of that time at Volsley and Dumais. Sgt. Mercer has one sister in the C.W.A.C. at present completing her basic training.

ENLISTED—

Miss Clara May Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barker, Oxbow, Sask., enlisted in the Canadian Women's Army Corps at Fort Osborne Barracks, Winnipeg, recently. Miss Barker was an high school student at Oxbow at the time of her enlistment.

"CWAC SOUVENIR"—

Pte. Jean White, Ottawa, collects souvenirs overseas, not the usual type you pick up in antique stores, but some she makes herself. For the past several months Jean has attended classes in jewellery and silversmith work, the only CWAC so far to attend these classes held weekly in the Central School of Arts, London. Already she is becoming an accomplished silversmith, having completed a very handsome silver napkin ring, and now working on a decorative silver ash-tray. In the jewellery line, she has concentrated on souvenir bracelet made out of English thimble bits, for her fellow Corps members. Daughter of Major and Mrs. J. W. White, Ottawa, Jean enlisted in the C.W.A.C. at the time of its inception in September, 1941. She has been serving overseas for the past 19 months and is currently employed in a CWAC company in London.

PROMOTED—

Pte. Isabel Audrey Young, Yorkton, Sask., has recently been appointed to the rank of Corporal with No. 112 Depot Company, C.W.A.C., Regina. Cpl. Young enlisted in the Canadian Women's Army Corps in July, 1942. Immediately prior to her enlistment she was employed as a postal clerk. Her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Young, resides at Yorkton.

Might Be Good Idea

To Train Peacetime Army in Germany For Many Years

Expression was given before the British House of Commons by Col. Alfred Wise (Cons.) of his hope that the British peacetime army would be training in Germany for the next 20 to 25 years at least. Speaking of the lack of training grounds in Britain, "there will be plenty of room over there," he said.

That is only one factor which recommends Col. Wise's suggestion. It is a good point, for Britain must be crowded to the limit with training grounds. When the troops from Canada, the United States and other members of the United Nations have been withdrawn there will be considerably more room available for agriculture and industry; but if it is the intention as it evidently is, to maintain a peacetime army much of Britain will still be needed for training grounds. So why not have Britons train in Germany where, as Col. Wise says, there will be plenty of room?

A point even more important than the mere matter of room is the effect such a move will have on the German people. The education of the Germans to a state when they will have turned from worship of militarism to civilization, is likely to be a long-term proposition. It will be a slow job, especially in dealing with the young Germans who have had the tenets of Nazism instilled into them; but it can be shortened to quite an extent by giving the Germans an object lesson of what will be in store for them if they feel like fostering the old spirit of revenge. To have before them the sight of men preparing against the possibility of another war, to see thousands of young Britons getting to take Germany in hand and administer another beating unless she behaves should be a salutary restraining influence.

Col. Wise's suggestion is worth considering. With a possible extension of having a sizeable portion of the "international police force" train in Germany. Letting the Germans realize that it is not Britain alone they will have to face if they misbehave. Owen Sound Sun Times.

Prisoner Chief, Barrister Named Churchill To Defend His Case

A prisoner at Birmingham Quarter Sessions granted a free defence was told to choose from the barristers sitting in front with their backs to him. The Recorder began announcing the names of counsel, and when he got to "Mr. Churchill" the accused man immediately stopped him. "That name is good enough for me," he said, and A. R. Churchill took over his defence, reports the London Daily Mail. The man, charged with housebreaking, was jumped over for two years.

NORWEGIANS SEND URGENT APPEAL TO SWEDEN FOR HELP IN STAND AGAINST GERMANY

LONDON.—The Norwegian government, declaring that a German force of approximately 200,000 would make a "last desperate stand" in Norway, has appealed to Sweden to drop its neutrality and rescue "what can be saved" of Norway.

"The general feeling in Norway," a statement issued by the Norwegian government said, "seems to be that the war against the Germans has reached the stage where neutrality has become a mere, empty word, that both Swedish people and the government are in fact aware of their moral responsibilities and are prepared to assist in saving what can be saved."

A Swedish communique said a Swedish Norwegian volunteer association had been granted permission to train 200 of its volunteers at Swedish military establishments. The communique gave no further details about the "volunteers-for-Norway" movement.

The statement of the Norwegian government said the Germans were bringing heavy guns and other war material into Norway, sending in ammunition by air, increasing the number of fortified U boat pens, improving their air fields and stocking up supplies of gasoline.

HEWN FROM ROCK

Americans Capture Place Hitler Used During Conquest of France

WITH THE U.S. 80TH DIVISION IN GERMANY. A fabulous rock-brown "eagle's nest" from which Hitler masterminded the conquest of France has fallen to American troops.

The mountain hideaway of 1,000 air conditioned chambers was captured by the 80th division at Zandheim, just west of the famed resort centre of Bad Nauheim.

The place was so well concealed that the Americans thought at first they had come into possession of just another winery.

Hitler spent much of his time there in 1940.

The many rooms and their three-mile-long connecting corridors were hewn from solid rock near the top of a mountain on which rests the remains of the ancient Ziegenhain castle.

HAD SURRENDERED

But U.S. Major General Was Shot By Nazi Tankmen

WITH FIRST U.S. ARMY IN GERMANY. Maj-Gen. Maurice Rose, Denver, Colo., commander of the U.S. Third Armored division, was shot and killed by Nazi tankmen while taking off his pistol to hand over to his German captors, it was announced.

Rose's aide, Maj. Robert Ballinger, White Plains, N.Y., said Rose already had surrendered to the crew of a German Tiger tank when tankmen with a "bump" gun shot him.

German Pilot Amazed Allied Troops Edmontonian Girl Has Normal Vision On Airfield Near Frankfurt

WITH THE ALLIES NEAR FRANKFURT. They say rats desert a sinking ship, and here's a story to prove it.

One German pilot flew his plane through a curtain of Allied ack-ack to land on an Allied-held airfield near Frankfurt. As the amazed Allied troops closed in on the plane, the Nazi carefully stepped out of his fighter plane.

He looked a battery of small arms in the face and calmly announced, "I have come to fight with the Allied air force."

When the Allies catch their breath, they'll decide what to do with him.

Edmonton Girl Has Normal Vision After Eye Operation

EDMONTON. — Partially blind a few weeks ago, Lillian Cameron, young Edmontonian girl, has normal vision after undergoing an eye operation performed by Dr. Ramon Casstraviejo in New York at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Centre.

On her return home, Miss Cameron said she would always remember the moment the bandages were removed and she was told to open her eyes. The first things she saw were the small heads of screws in the shades on the ceiling of the hospital room. Before the operation she couldn't distinguish clearly the faces of life-long friends.

DENUNCIATION OF THE SOVIET-JAPANESE PACT MAY HAVE A DRASTIC EFFECT ON PACIFIC WAR

LONDON. Rapid and drastic consequences are foreseen in London following denunciation by the Soviet government of the Soviet-Japanese neutrality pact.

This action by Russia may not only have a dramatic effect upon the war in the Pacific, but it is believed, may transform the present critical tension which had preceded the San Francisco world security conference.

It is thought that in view of the enthusiasm which the Soviet decision will inspire particularly in the United States, it is possible the Soviet delegation to San Francisco may yet be led by Foreign Minister Molotov himself.

It is noted in London that Molotov's note to the Japanese ambassador would be considerably beyond the usual terms of denunciation. It would refer to Japan's and to Germany in her war against Russia is clear indication that the Soviet leaders do not intend to let the matter rest simply at the formal denunciation.

Diplomatic circles in London reveal that this matter was discussed at Yalta where the Big Three met in February and it is believed in London that the Soviets from now on will play an active role in convincing Japanese leaders that unless they accept unconditional surrender on Allied terms Russia no longer will remain an inactive spectator of the war in the Pacific.

Molotov's reference to Japanese unneutral attitude during the attack on Russia provides the Russians with adequate justification to claim that Japan already has violated the neutrality pact by her past action.

Well informed circles in London, therefore believe that Molotov also informed the Japanese ambassador that failing a Japanese admission of defeat, Russia may be compelled to join her allies to make her eastern frontier secure from future aggression.

It is believed that knowledge of this Soviet attitude has led to the present cabinet crisis in Japan and that a great political struggle is at present proceeding in Tokyo between the so-called moderates who are prepared to accept what might be a long time.

termed the Soviet ultimatum and the reactionaries who want to fight all corners. For the moment the reactionaries are in top in Tokyo. The cabinet of Gen. Kono resigned en bloc and Admiral Baron Kantaro Suzuki has been called on to form a new administration.

It is believed in London that when the Far Eastern question was discussed among the Big Three even before the Yalta meeting, it was agreed that the Russians should obtain a protectorate over Outer Mongolia, Manchuria and Korea and should receive back the Trans Manchurian railway which they were compelled to sell to the Japanese.

The Soviet Union has a formidable military force in the Far East. At various naval bases around Vladivostok, it is estimated she has about 200 submarines built in recent years. Soviet Far Eastern Red Banner Army has never been withdrawn from the Far East and is in every way superior to the 25 Japanese divisions on the Soviet frontier.

In a strongly worded note to Japan, Moscow linked for the first time the European and Pacific wars by declaring Japan had aided Germany and, in addition, Japan is fighting against the U.S.A. and Great Britain, which are allies of the Soviet Union.

The denounced five-year neutrality pact does not expire until April 25, 1946—more than a year from now. But the note which Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov handed Japanese Ambassador Naotake Sato in Moscow placed Japan squarely in the enemy's camp and stated Soviet Russia's opinion that Japan had violated the pact.

Moscow's announcement said Molotov told the Japanese ambassador the neutrality agreement had "lost its meaning and continuance of this pact has become impossible."

The note given Sato was reminiscent of the same line taken by Russia last September when Russia went to war against Bulgaria, accusing that Axis satellite of aiding Germany against Russia and declaring "Bulgaria actually had been in a state of war with the Soviet Union for a long time."

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE HAS PLAYED IMPORTANT PART IN PROSECUTION OF THE WAR

OTTAWA. Air Minister Gibson, today's interim estimates totalling $152,876,000 in the common review RCAF activities and announced a program for the future which included training in Canada, disposal of surplus supplies, reduction in strength, police squadrons for post-war Germany and fighting squadrons for the Pacific.

Reviewing the service's contribution to the big Commonwealth Air Training Plan, Col. Gibson said that 72,729 of the 131,000 trained air crew graduates had been Canadians. In the battle skies Canadians had won a total of 5,166 honors.

In 1943, the Canadian overseas bomber group flew 7,355 sorties and dropped 13,826 tons of bombs. Last year, the group flew 25,353 sorties and dropped 86,502 tons of bombs—accomplished with the lowest loss percentage of four-motored aircraft in the entire British bomber command.

Last October the group dispatched the largest force of four-motored aircraft ever sent against any target by any group in the history of bomber command.

As for the fighters, they flew 10,575 sorties for the year up to March 15 and one of their greatest victories was last Aug. 18 in Normandy when they accounted for 1,074 vehicles destroyed, 1,929 damaged, 73 tanks destroyed and 91 downed.

Here is a point-by-point picture of his remarks:

Training—besides looking after a supply of trained airmen for its own force, the RCAF has contracted to continue to conduct about 10 air schools for the R.A.F. In addition, the service will continue to operate six operational training units and seven schools to provide refresher and specialized training.

As "an insurance against an unfavorable turn" in the progress of the war a further nine schools will be opened under a "shadow" set-up, capable of being re-opened on short notice.

Disposal by Feb. 28 surpluses valued at $161,620,128 had been sent to War Assets Corporation for disposal.

In no case, War Assets Corporation will take over entire sites and since March 1 the air ministry has cancelled 232 leases and has reported 64 properties to the corporation as surplus.

Police—the RCAF will be represented in the occupational forces in Europe at the end of the war there.

Pacific—certain other squadrons—he could not say how many—will be detailed for service in the Pacific, but this will be done on a voluntary basis. He added that all personnel bomber group flew 7,355 sorties and dropped 13,826 tons of bombs. ## Large British Fleet For Drive In The Pacific

LONDON. Radi Tokyo said that a large British fleet, including seven aircraft carriers, was massing in the Indian Ocean for a simultaneous invasion of islands off the Malay peninsula, Sumatra, Burma and southern Thailand.

It has been reported that scores of British war craft in European waters are already heading for the Indian Ocean via the Red sea. Tokyo said in a broadcast recorded by British United Press at San Francisco.

"The number of British heavy and light units that have recently cleared Port Said is unbelievable."

At Sydney, the cruiser Uganda, first Canadian warship ever to visit Australia, sailed recently en route to join Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser's British Pacific fleet, it was revealed.

The broadcast said Allied units had been observed "making all preparations at many places for a simultaneous invasion" of Andaman and Nicobar islands in the Indian Ocean, Suibang island off the northern tip of Sumatra, and Poket and Lang kawi just off the west coast of the Malay peninsula some 400 miles north of Singapore. In addition, the broadcast said, the British were planning "forced landing operations" against southern Burma and Thailand.

Justice T. C. Davis, of Regina, Canadian high commissioner to Australia, spent a day aboard the Uganda, particularly hitting to some 40 Saskatchewan ratings.

HMS Uganda's commanding officer, Captain Edmund Rolfe Main, R.C.N., of Duncan B.C., told Davis that the ship's complement was eager to go into action with the British Pacific fleet.

In Ottawa, Naval Minister Angus L. Macdonald told the House of Commons that the Uganda was serving with the British fleet in the Pacific. He said that a second cruiser would be commissioned with the R.C.N. in a few weeks and later sent to the Pacific. She is HMS Ontario.

Main, who won an operational Order of the British Empire award as senior officer of escorts in early Atlantic convoy battles of this war and who has also been mentioned in despatches, said that his ship had come 20,000 miles looking for a fight since being commissioned last October as the first all-Canadian cruiser. He said he expected to see "plenty of action against the Japs."

The British fleet in the Indian Ocean, the broadcast said, is centred around the 23,000-ton carriers Illustrious, Victorious, Formidable, Implacable and Indefatigable, and two older carriers, the Furious and the Eager.

PILOT BY MISTAKE

R.A.F. Squadron Leader Got His Chance Through Clerical Error

LONDON.—Squadron Leader Geoffrey Warnes, who was made an R.A.F. fighter pilot by mistake and won fame as a train-huster wearing contact lenses to correct and conceal his poor eyesight, is missing and presumed dead after being forced to bail out over the English Channel, the Evening News said.

Warnes originally was rejected for flying duties but through a clerical error he was ordered to flight training school. Knowing his eyesight would give him away, he obtained contact lenses and learned to wear them for hours at a time without resting. The only R.A.F. pilot wearing such eye aids, Warnes became so adept at shooting up trains and motor convoys that he won the nickname of "Strifer."

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was held in the St. Alban's parish hall in honor of Mrs. Allister MacQuarrie, an English bride recently arriving from England. The evening was spent playing whist.

A lovely supper was served, after which Mrs. MacQuarrie was presented with a carriage laden with gifts by Sheila Penney. After opening these lovely gifts, Mrs. MacQuarrie thanked the assembled guests, saying she had never seen anything like this in England and it was real nice for everyone to be so good, after which she thanked the hostesses, Mesdames Morrison, Penney, Garner, Martland, Parry, Dorothy and Esther MacQuarrie.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

BANDS SERVICES REQUIRED

As V-Day comes ever closer the realization that Coleman has not a band to take part in the celebrations breaks into one's thoughts with brutal frankness.

It is not everyone that can pick up a musical instrument and play a tune. However, there are enough bandmen in town that given a little practice could put up a creditable showing. To those men we appeal for their co-operation. It is vitally necessary that a band be formed in Coleman in order that our V-Day celebrations can be carried out to the full. Jimmy Lowe is still willing to train a local band. Let's get together in this thing and get a band organized before it becomes too late for Peace celebrations. Some bandmen have been keeping in practice hoping that the band will be organized once again. It won't take long to get all bandmen in shape if only a start was made towards organization.

ERROL FLYNN STARS IN "NORTHERN PURSUIT"

"Northern Pursuit," a dramatic wartime adventure of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the men who patrol the vast stretches of the Canadian Northwest, starring Errol Flynn, will be the new film fare presented at the Palace theatre starting Saturday.

The Warner Bros. picture was directed by Raoul Walsh, who was also teamed with Flynn in "They Died With Their Boots On," "Gentleman Jim" and "Desperate Journey." With Julie Bishop, who appeared opposite Humphrey Bogart in "Action in the North Atlantic," as leading lady, the film's supporting cast includes Helmut Dantine, who came into fame with his portrayals of Nazi roles, notably in "Edge of Darkness," John Ridgley, who last appeared in "Air Force," and Gene Lockhart, well-known character actor.

"Northern Pursuit" has Errol Flynn in the role of a Mountie who is thrown head-on into the enemy's machinations when he encounters Colonel Hugo von Keller, head of a Nazi sabotage ring landed by submarine on the coast of Hudson Bay. Party to a ruse concocted by the Canadian Mounted Police, Flynn pretends to be in discredit with the force in order to round up the ring of saboteurs. Together with the Nazi contact man, he goes to Keller who has managed to elude the police. Although Keller was not deceived by the trick, Flynn discovers that the Nazis, under Keller's guidance, are planning to blow up the Welland Canal. At the last moment, however, and with the aid of his courageous wife, Flynn manages to stop the bombing by killing Keller, getting into the plane, wrecking it, then parachuting to safety.

"Northern Pursuit" was produced by Jack Chertok. Screen play for the film was written by Frank Gruber and Alvah Bessie, based on a story by Leslie T. White.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE BOOK RENEWAL

The necessity for employers to return all current unemployment insurance books in their possession for renewal is emphasized. These books expired on Saturday, March 31, and after that date there is no space for further contributions. Employers are therefore requested to follow the instructions contained in a recent letter sent to them by the Commission and arrange to have all insurance books in their possession forwarded to their nearest employment and selective service office immediately after the end of March. This is essential in order that workers may receive their full employment credits without delay.

Spotlight Series Discontinued Due To Lack Of Pictures

It was with sincere regret that The Friendly Store has had to discontinue its weekly and most interesting Spotlight series which has been carried in The Journal during the past two years. Lack of pictures of armed forces personnel was the cause.

The Journal has appealed for pictures during the past few weeks and has received little response. Pictures had to be sent to the engravers in groups of ten. Ten pictures were not forthcoming so it was decided to drop the series. The Friendly Store will start a regular quarter-page grocery advertisement next week, which will appear every second week.

Pictures already in The Journal's possession will be engraved and published a few weeks from now. Readers will still be privileged to bring pictures of relatives in the armed forces for publication provided they are known to Coleman citizens.

ILL WIND
O life insurance companies welcome lapsing of policies?

ANSWER: They do not. They strive continuously, in good times and bad, to keep policies on their books, and they try to limit new business to an amount which a policyholder can afford. They know that a lapsed policy is like an ill wind, that blows nobody good. They know that the company, as well as the policyholder, suffers when a policy lapses.

They don't make a profit on lapses, then?

ANSWER: No, the fact is that the companies usually suffer an actual loss. This is because lapses generally occur before the number of premiums paid is sufficient to reimburse the company for the expenses incurred in issuing the policy and the cost of the protection afforded while the insurance was in force.

It doesn't pay life insurance companies to lose policyholders and the old adage holds good that satisfied customers are the best asset any business can have.

What does
YOUR FARM NEED?

If you want to build a modern barn

or buy new equipment

or electrify your farm

or modernize your house

...then have a talk with your bank manager about his new powers under the Farm Improvement Loans Act.

How often have you said "If I could only raise the money!" Well, if you could, what would you do to improve your farm and increase your production?

Would you build a modern barn?
or buy new machinery?
or modernize your house?
or electrify your farm?

You can raise short term money from your bank; and long term money from other institutions by way of mortgage. But there are some things you would like to do which require loans that are neither long nor short...

That is where the banks, operating under the new Farm Improvement Loans Act, can help you. The gap has been filled. "Intermediate" loans at a specially low rate can now be obtained for periods of two or three years—or even longer, in cases up to ten years.

So, if you have a project in mind to improve your farm, drop in and talk it over with your local bank manager. Ask him what he is now empowered to do to help make your farm living more attractive and your work more profitable.

He will tell you—and show you—that your bank is just as eager to meet the sound credit needs of the farmer as of the merchant or manufacturer.

Coleman To Have Roller Skating Arena?

Sports Association Has Committee Investigating Possibilities of Promoting the Sport Here.

There is a possibility that Coleman may in the near future have facilities for the sport of roller skating. A committee of three has been formed by the sports association to investigate various angles in connection with accommodating the sport and will report its findings at the semi-annual meeting which will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday next in the Community hall.

The committee have three suitable locations in mind. One is to try and co-operate with the curling club and house the sport in the new curling arena. The second is to place it in the open air rink. However, plans to beautify the park call for the open air arena being moved to a new location in the park. The third location is the skating rink.

CURLING LAST WEEK END

In order that our friends farther afield may realize just what kind of spring weather we have been experiencing these past few weeks we refer them to Coleman curling arena, where curling games have been played till as late as last Sunday afternoon.

Curling on keen ice on April 8 should constitute some kind of a record for this part of the country.

THANK YOU

The Business Of Farming Requires RESERVES

"READY MONEY" is the common term for what businessmen call "Reserve Funds". In any language, "Ready Money" is a handy thing to have.

None realize this need more than a farmer . . . for in the business of farming there are so many times that extra money is needed . . . for bills that must be met . . . to take advantage of opportunities . . . "to turn a dollar" with profit.

There are many times when a farmer needs "extra money". Without a reserve fund he must either sell something "for what he can get for it" or borrow, if he can get a loan.

Victory Bonds provide a safe and convenient form in which to keep savings until needed. Victory Bonds earn double bank interest. When you have Victory Bonds you can get a loan from any bank at any time without any formality, and the interest the bonds earn pays a large part of the interest on the loan.

Victory Bonds can be bought for cash which you have saved or bought on convenient deferred payments with money as you get it.

Buy Victory Bonds to provide a reserve of working capital for your farm. Buy them, too, to help maintain your country's war effort. They pay interest these two ways.

Farmers always need "extra money" at seed time . . .

"Extra money" is needed to pay harvest hands . . .

You can often make a profit if you have cash to buy young animals . . .

Midget Carriers

British Merchant Ships Equipped With Flight Decks

Several "midget aircraft carriers" - British merchant vessels equipped with flight decks have been operating in the Atlantic since 1943, the admiralty disclosed in London.

The merchant aircraft carriers, unique in naval history, combine the functions of merchant and escort carriers.

Although the small planes which fly from "postage sized" flight decks have not been credited with any outstanding successes in battles against U-boats, they were said to have fulfilled their purpose in keeping the German submarines at bay.

Merchant sailing masters have come to regard the midget carriers as indispensable to their safety, the admiralty said.

They eliminated catapulted planes which once airborne, could not return to their ships but had to be ditched at sea when they ran out of fuel resulting in a 100 per cent. aircraft loss.

Churchill Said Earl Lloyd George Was Champion Of Weak

Prime Minister Churchill paid tribute to the late Earl Lloyd George as "a champion of the weak and the poor," and as the greatest Welshman since the days of the Tudors.

"It was Lloyd George who launched liberal and radical forces in this country effectively into a broad stream of social betterment and social security," Mr. Churchill said in the House of Commons.

"There was no man so gifted, so eloquent, so forceful, who knew the life of the people so well."

Seed-Borne Diseases

Farmers Should Treat Their Seed For Control Of Disease

While many farmers clean their seed to eliminate weed seeds and other impurities, and also have it tested for germination and purity, there are many who neglect what is equally important, that is, to treat their seed with a recommended dust treatment to control seed-borne diseases, says G. A. Scott, Division of Botany & Plant Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Treatment of seed to control seed-borne diseases is an inexpensive means of crop insurance. The cost for seed of cereals is about three cents per bushel or 4 1/2 cents per acre. Mercurial dusts such as Ceresan and Leytoman when properly applied, effectively control the smuts of oats, covered smut of barley, bunt or stinking smut of wheat and certain blights and root rots commonly found in cereal crops.

Organic mercury dusts are poisonous to human beings and live stock. In applying them great care should be exercised to follow instructions as outlined on the container. Due to their easy application, effectiveness, and stimulation to germination they are rapidly replacing the use of formalin. They will not control the loose smuts of wheat and barley. These smuts are not affected by the use of the ordinary seed treatments but can be controlled by the hot water treatment.

Arsenic, Senesam and Spergon are dusts recommended for the treatment of seed of certain vegetables and field roots.

All the seed treatment dusts can be bought from any seed dealer.

There is no doubt that the use of disease-free seed is one of the first essentials to successful and profitable crop production, says Mr. Scott. It is an established fact that proper seed treatment will control certain seed-borne diseases and will protect the seed, for a time at least, from invasion of soil-borne organisms. If a farmer will treat his seed annually with a recommended preparation, it will prove the cheapest and most reliable investment he can make to protect his crop against serious loss from diseases.

Will Do Gardening

Over 1800 Farm Daughters Have Enrolled In Girls' Brigade

Farmers, as a rule, are the world's worst gardeners. The crop of courgettes must be put in first and when the garden needs cultivating or hoeing there is always some field crop that needs it still more. However, it looks like a solution coming up, for more than 1,800 farm daughters have enrolled in the girls' garden brigade sponsored by the Department of Agriculture. When all these girls go into action and they are scattered throughout all the counties, farm people will get a fill of good vegetables, fresh from the garden, and they will realize how important a farm garden really is. Farmer's Advocate.

WHITER BREAD

Britain's bread will soon be whiter, and other foods more tasty. An order comes into force which brings about a decrease in the rate of extractions of national flour from 85 per cent. to 82 1/2 per cent. "This measure in due course, will have the result of producing a whiter and better quality loaf, with no appreciable loss of nutritional value," said Col. Llewellyn, minister of food, recently.

Cleared The Land

How Russian Women Removed German Mines From Farm Fields

Cultivating the land is not always a peaceful occupation. This is illustrated by the story from Russia of Anna Antseferova. She is a member of a collective farm which during the German invasion of Russia was the scene of fierce fighting.

The farm fields, thickly mined by the Germans had formed the approaches to the battlefront. When the battles rolled west from the Don the plowmen and sowers returned to the fields. But before they could restart their work they had to remove the mines. So Anna and her friends became sappers. They were trained and equipped by men of the Red Army.

Ten square miles of minefields were cleared without the aid of the charts. Anna herself lifted 1,430 mines. Another champion lifter, Alexander Neupokoyev, accounted for 1,889 more. Three other farmers between them dealt with 1,492 anti-tank and anti-infantry mines 3,259 mortar mines, 17,442 unexploded artillery shells and 224 unexploded bombs. Leeds Yorkshire Post.

PLACING THE BLAME

A southern England food officer received a letter from a woman who wanted a change of butcher. "My husband has been breaking his head, and I think it must have something to do with the meat," she said.

Because it increases the blood flow, meat has a beneficial effect on many ailments.

Ship Provisions

Canadian Farmers Provide The Necessary Food For Our Seamen

Every ship that leaves a Canadian port, whether troop transport or liner, cargo boat or deep sea fishing vessel, is supplied with enough food for both the outward and the return voyage to Canada. Contrary to a general opinion that ships can store any quantity of food they like, and that therefore some shortages develop on the home market, the food supplies are provided on a strict man per day basis, and a careful accounting of all supplies stores is required if a ship returns to Canada before the expiry of the date of her last storing period. A review of the statement covering ships' supplies for 1944 shows that of a total value of about $16,000,000, by far the greater amount was for food.

So stringent is the accounting that the administrator of ships' stores, knows that no goods sold for ships' stores are finding their way into the black market in other countries, and farmers of Canada should know that their contribution of food is probably the most indispensable to those who man the merchant ships and the convoy escorts on the high seas—the men on whom falls the responsibility of petting the snivels of war and the troops to the battle fronts.

The Faith of the Patriarchs Stressed by the Writer of Hebrews, 11:8-22.

A Time of Great Migrations. Abraham came out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran; and from thence, when his father was dead, God removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell—so Stephen told the crowd of Jews that was about to stone him to death. We think of Palestine as the ancestral home of the Jews, but they came originally from a far country. The very word "Hebrew" shows this in its derivation from "Eber," beyond. The early stories in the book of Genesis we shall study in our next quarter's lessons. With the twelfth chapter of Genesis the real theme of the Old Testament begins. Here at the beginning stands Abraham, the Father of the Faithful, the Friend of God, the hero of whose life extends from 12:1 to 25:18 of the Book of Genesis.

Abraham was born and grew to manhood at Ur in Chaldean, the land between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers which extended northward from the Persian Gulf. Here there was a highly cultured civilization. With Terah his father, Abraham journeyed five hundred miles northward to Haran on the Euphrates, and tarried there for a time. There Terah died. It was a hard journey of three hundred miles from Haran to Canaan and must have taken many weeks. Perhaps Abraham stopped at Damascus (Gen. 15:2), and then went southward to the ford of the Jordan south of the Sea of Galilee and then westward to Shechem in central Canaan. Then Abraham's obedience to the call to leave his country and kindred took him three hundred miles southwestward.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

SUCCESS

— By —

LARRY STERN

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Stephan Dejs wasn't a family man. He'd been too busy being a success. He'd been too busy to acquiring a wife. But his inherent love for children was nonetheless strong. That's why, though extremely weary after his long journey, he made no effort to disperse the group of curious youngsters whom his nephew had brought home with him after school. They swamped him with questions. "We was studying about the Balkans in our geography class. Did you really live there?" "Do the kids dress different from us, Mister?" "Joe says you own a chemical factory; that must be fun. I got a chemistry set last Christmas; do you make them?" "Joe says you're awful rich, Mister. Are you?"

Patience and in stilled English, Uncle Steve answered all questions. All but the last: Was he rich? His mind reverted to the days when he had been but little older than these energetic American children. Formal education already lay behind him. Ahead was work, first on a farm and then in a factory.

In the factory he did just about everything, from polishing doorknobs to preparing finished textiles for shipping. A workday for Stephan was often twelve hours, or even fourteen. Small wonder that he paid scant heed to international strife, to rumblings of political jealousies. Stephan's aim was to make good. If he worked hard, honestly, success would be his.

And it was. Interested in dyes, he managed by saving over a long period of years to open his own establishment. Unexcelled products at fair prices plus a gift for making and keeping friends served as the platform on which he built a thriving business.

Then came the war, but except for local disturbances in the neighboring country, the Balkans seemed slated to remain at peace.

Vain hope. The little countries were but pawns in the manoeuvrings of a fanatic who forced upon them his unwelcome "protection." Stephan and his country regained territory previously lost to its neighbor. The move was calculated to make the populace look with favor upon the dictator, to pave the way for a pact which promised co-operation. Stephan, little versed in politics, voiced his opposition. "Our independence is goose-stepping toward oblivion," he predicted.

"Nonsense," scoffed one of his friends, a minor Government official. "That piece of land is but a fraction of what will be given us when our friend has conquered England. We will grow, become more independent than before!"

"I have faith in my country, Karosi," Stephan affirmed, "but in fairy tales..." he shook his head.

A week later the same official waddled into Stephan's modest office. "You seem to be doing less business these days, my friend."

"Only because our great benefactor has played havoc with transportation. Not that my products are bulky, but..." Stephan shrugged. "What troubles me is the necessity for discharging some of my employees."

"Transport facilities are at the disposal of those who ship essentials," Karosi enlightened. "Now if your firm were to manufacture... explosives..." he paused significantly.

Stephan stared. "I do believe you are serious."

"I am. If you refuse to do as I suggest, your factory will be taken over by the Government. I speak as your friend, Stephan. It is wiser to comply."

Perhaps Stephan was not wise. When he realized that Karosi's words had not been idle ones, he did an efficient job of destroying his factory—saw the fulfillment of his dreams vanish in flame and smoke. Well, maybe some day, when things were normal again, he could build another.

Confronted by a suspicious Karosi, Stephan made no effort to deny his guilt. "I am accepting no indemnity; the less is mine alone. Why, then, must I leave the country?"

"To avoid prison, you fool, or death. Even so you may encounter obstacles." Karosi thoughtfully scratched his puffy jaw. "I may be able to effect your escape. It will take money, of course, but when one's life is at stake more money loses its value."

Stephan smiled thinly. That this was a new form of blackmail he never doubted. Still, what could he do? Karosi held the winning card.

After paying his "friend" for arranging things, Stephan had barely enough for his passage to America. The Atlantic crossing was made memorable by the rescue of a torpedoed freighter's crew. In the faces of the survivors Stephan read the reason for his act of treason. Could he have been expected to help kill them by the manufacture of explosives? The thought was harrowing.

Aboveboard in all things, Stephan lost no time confessing to his sister Mary and her husband his true status. But it made no difference, he was welcome to share their comfortable home. Stephan thanked God that through the years he'd remembered the little family on birthdays and holidays, for now he came empty-handed.

Facing the eager youngsters, Stephan counted his assets. Residence in a country whose Government didn't make a mockery of that famous statue on Bedloe's Island; the comfort of being with people whose affection for him didn't decrease along with his fortune; and the opportunity to become what he wanted.

He laid a gentle hand on the abused head of his questioner and said solemnly, "I think I am truly rich, my boy."

Human Test Tubes

Men in U.S. Prisons Volunteer For Medical Research

Behind bars in three of the nation's federal prisons some 200 men are gambling their lives to aid the Allies on the battlefronts.

They are the "human test tubes" for medical research against malaria, one of the most dreaded enemies fighting against the Allied, as well as Japanese, armies in the Pacific, China and Burma.

They have volunteered to be bitten by the disease-carrying Anopheles mosquito so they can be inoculated with preventive drugs still under the experimental stage by medical staffs.

Results of the experiments will remain a secret as vital as any military information the Japanese would like to obtain.

Each of the prisoners is "screened" before being accepted and doctors stress no persons who have organic ailments of the heart, liver or kidneys may be selected.

Ranging from fire-terminers to one-year prisoners, the men are warned they may be ill from the malarial bug for a year and a half, and perhaps, longer.

Visit Of The Emperor Of Abyssinia To President Roosevelt And Mr. Churchill

The Ethiopian Embassy has issued a rather curious statement on the visits recently paid by the Emperor of Abyssinia to President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill in Egypt. So far as the visit to the President was concerned, everything was perfect. This was made "at the invitation of the President, who assigned to his Imperial Majesty an aide-de-camp and staff and special airplane for the occasion." After reading all this it is not surprising that the Emperor was deeply impressed with the friendly and understanding attitude of the President and his Secretary of State. But what of Mr. Churchill?

The British public will be relieved to hear that the Emperor found time to fit in a visit to him also. As the statement put it so nicely:

While still in Egypt as the guest of the President, the Emperor was pleased to accept the invitation of the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, to meet the Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Churchill, and to avail himself of this opportunity of discussing the mutual relations of the two countries. He afterwards returned to Addis Ababa in the airplane placed at his disposal by the American Government.

One is left wondering whether it was British hospitality or British imperialism which failed to please. The Emperor might have remembered, as Mr. Churchill said that "he was the first to have restored his ancient throne by the heavy exertions of our British and Indian armies in the far off days of 1941-42" but of course there was no special aeroplane. Perhaps that made the difference.

Small And Simple

Britain Has Produced Mobile Flour Mills For Liberated Europe

Mobile flour mills, each able to supply the needs of 50,000 people, have been specially produced in Britain for liberated Europe.

The United Kingdom authorities evolved the idea of an emergency flour plant when the Allies first landed in Italy and realized that the mills destroyed by the enemy could not be restored quickly enough to feed the people. Leading dieticians were consulted and it was decided that the best temporary solution was to produce means of producing locally sufficient quantities of well ground 100 per cent. wholemeal, which could be manufactured with simple equipment.

Despite their large output of 16 cwt. of wholemeal flour per hour, these mills are small and so simple that they can be operated by unskilled labor. Each mill is entirely self-contained and mounted on skids so that it may be easily moved from place to place. It is equipped with enough spare parts for a year of continuous work, operating if necessary for 24 hours a day. St Thomas Times Journal.

Lunch Box Magic

Are your lunch box meals measuring up? Do they satisfy the appetites of hard working men, and energetic youngsters? You can be sure the lunch will be a ball and hearty one if you make generous sandwiches from this wholesome Bran Yeast Bread! Spread it generously with rich creamy peanut butter, and you'll have a combination that's not only delicious, but also highly nutritious!

Bran Yeast Bread

1 1/2 cups All-Bran
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon shortening
1/2 cup molasses

Combine All-Bran, boiling water, shortening, molasses and salt; let cool until lukewarm. Add yeast which has been softened in lukewarm water. Stir in flour and beat vigorously. Put into greased loaf pans. Let rise again until almost double in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Ten minutes before removing loaves from oven, brush tops with butter. Yield: Two 1 1/2-pound loaves.

Devilish Ingenuity

In The Last War Germans Were Not Deficient In Setting Booby Traps

In this war, the Germans have used corpses, and even desperately wounded, to which were wired deadly explosives as booby traps. In Italy a pretty Italian doll has been used, and in the Rhineland a very inviting armchair has been found with a mine under it. But veterans will recall that in the last war the Huns were not deficient in diabolism.

The writer of the Fleet Street, London, Bureau of the Ottawa Journal recalls that one favorite one then was to arrange the wooden banister or rail of their dugouts, when they were clearing out, so that anyone descending the dugout and, as must be the case, resting his weight on the rail would into all the old war songs of 1914-18. Another gadget was to place a German battle helmet, always a prize souvenir with our Tommies, on a dugout table. Lift it, and the dugout went up.

But first prize for sadistic ingenuity and senseless murder must, the writer thinks, be awarded to a booby trap elaborately constructed in one of the French towns the Germans vacated before our advance in 1918.

When our troops marched into this small country town unopposed, they found much in ruins, but one edifice was in good repair. It was crowded with troops and, as there was a good piano, sing songs were very popular whilst the troops slaked their thirst on French hock. Our warriors gathered round the pianist and sang into all the old war songs of 1914-18. From Mademoiselle d'Armentieres to Pack Up Your Troubles, which, incidentally, still seems the popular songs of the Allies in this war.

This justification went on for several days, until the moment came when the accompanist struck a certain combination of notes. Then there ensued a terrific detonation, and the pianist and the crowd inside it, were blown to pieces. This story is well authenticated. It illustrates a phase of German psychology that makes no appeal to many people—St. Catharines Standard.

Twenty-five years ago the Chicagoan started designing shoes for midgets when he observed that children's shoes looked so out of proportion on the midget feet. He invested about $500 in miniature lasts. Now he claims to have every midget in the country as a customer.

"I'll take a midget order quicker than one for regular size," he said. "Whenever a midget needs a pair of shoes, he just sends me a picture of the style he wants, and it's made up on the last."

He got into the bigger shoe sizes by relenting from a firm promise not to take any shoes other than those for midgets. Now he has models for above average sizes and "tippie" shoes with six inch heels, forbidden by wartime Government regulation. He still gets requests for the latter from pint-sized women—but is an advocate of ballet slippers for the tall girl.

For Safety's Sake

Children Should Never Be Left In a House Alone

The natural curiosity of children can result in injuries and even death if they are not kept under constant supervision in the home. Two and three-year-old tots have not learned that it is dangerous to go near a fire in a stove and matches and gadgets on a heater or range hold greater attraction for most children who have not reached their teens.

It cannot be emphasized too often that parents ought never to leave children alone in a home. In the absence of their elders they may start a fire or become victims of their own inquisitiveness. Time and again parents who have left a child alone while on a brief errand or a visit to a neighbor have had cause to regret it.

Excited Owner Finally Recovered The Animal Alive

"Last night I left a small box containing a guinea pig in bedroom D of Car K 106 on 'The Montrealer', wrote a letter of Belows Falls, Vt., to J. C. Webber, stationmaster at the Canadian National Railways Central Station, Montreal.

"I was travelling from Philadelphia to Belows Falls. If you can locate this box brown shoe box with string; will you kindly forward it to me. Naturally I want the animal alive and if you could arrange to put a piece of lettuce or carrot in the box, I would appreciate it very much."

This little animal was discovered amid the bustle of the Canadian Customs premises.

BUTTER and CHEESE
 1939 to 1945

Alberta's dairy industry has gone to war too, and since 1939 it has responded to constantly increasing demands by almost doubling in value its production. This production effort has done much to maintain the vital supply stream of butter, cheese and dehydrated milk to our fighting fronts and our allies, while still providing an adequate—but necessarily limited—level of supply at home.

Part of this production victory must be credited to Alberta Farmers' forward-looking policy of building high-production herds of proved breeding. On Alberta farms are some of the finest herds in America. This augurs well, not only for the successful prosecution of the food production battle, but for a bright future for the dairy industry in Alberta.

Free copies of a booklet containing the entire series of informative details on Alberta's Wartime Production may be obtained at the conclusion of the schedule. Please send in your name to Calgary Brewing & Malting Co. Ltd., Calgary.
